

Carlsbad, NM – On Monday, August 30th, Harry Teague will make stops in Carlsbad, Artesia and Roswell as he meets with constituents and local business owners throughout the area.

Teague will begin the day by kicking off his Small Business Resource Workshop series in Carlsbad at the Permian Basin Regional Training Facility. The events will connect small business owners with federal and local government agencies and lender groups to provide the opportunity to ask questions and learn more about the resources available to support small business efforts.

Following that workshop, Teague will travel to Artesia to tour the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center (FLETC). He will meet with FLETC officials to discuss the Emergency Border Security Supplemental Act, co-sponsored by Teague and recently signed in to law by the President. Teague will discuss how it will address border security concerns in southern New Mexico and the economic benefits for FLETC and Artesia, where the 1,000 additional Border Patrol agents funded by the legislation will be trained. Congressman Teague will be available to speak to interested press following the meeting.

Teague will then make a stop at his Small Business Resource Workshop in Roswell, before touring the Roswell Job Corp Center, the nation's largest residential education and vocational training program that helps young people ages 16 through 24 improve the quality of their lives through career technical and academic training. In addition to touring the facility and learning more about the program, he will also meet with employees and program participants.

Teague will then host a meeting with members of the Roswell Chamber of Commerce. He will present the Chamber with a flag flown over the U.S. Capitol, and will discuss local business issues with Chamber members.

Interested media is invited to attend the events.
